

Education Fact Sheet

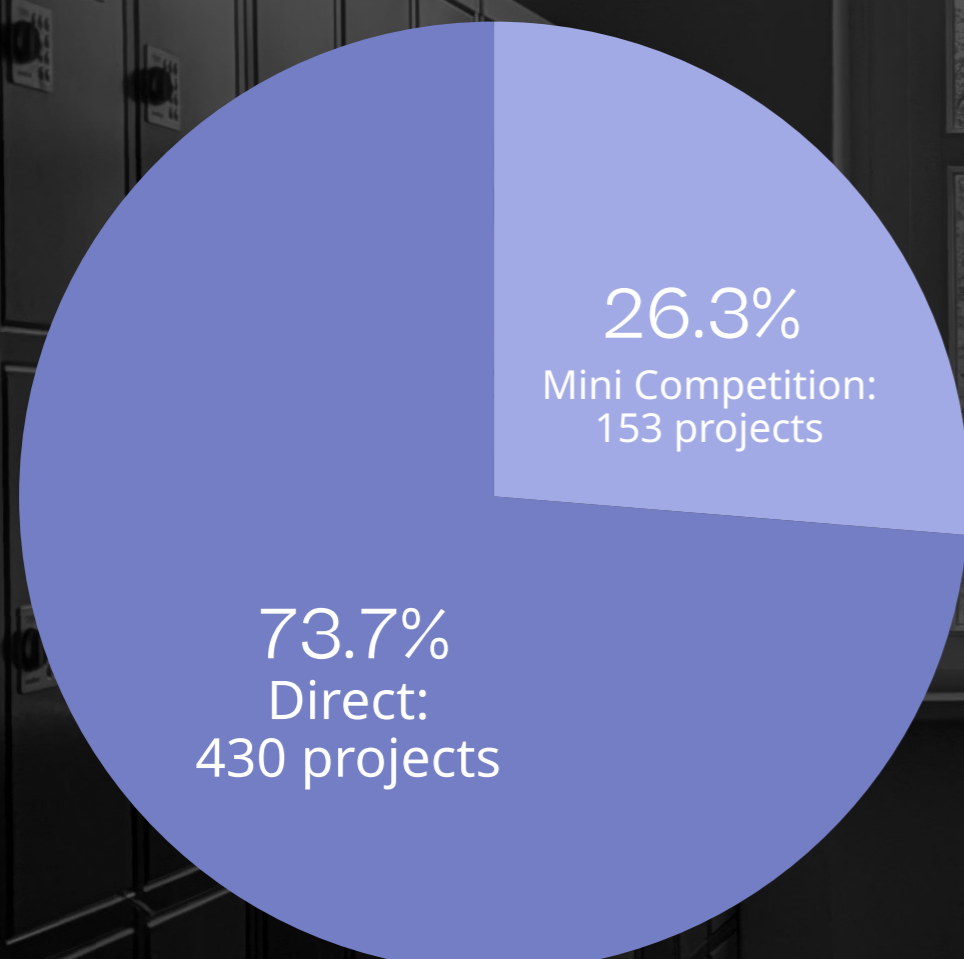

Brief Summary:

In education, the biggest risk isn't cost – its slow delivery. Delayed procurement can disrupt student learning and create unnecessary pressure on already stretched teams. Bloom Procurement Services helps the education sector move from approval to delivery in weeks, with fast, compliant procurement solutions delivered within the summer holidays.

Our framework eliminates the need for rushed, reactive purchasing or increased costs. Bloom ensures schools, colleges, and trusts are fully audit-ready, delivering the projects on time.

Route to market

Split between direct awards and mini competitions

583

education-related projects delivered since 2020

£53m+

delivered through Bloom since 2020

£10.3m+

savings achieved

Delivery & Efficiency

With Bloom, procurement speed becomes a strategic advantage, protecting student experience and giving education providers confidence that delivery will happen when it matters most. With nearly 350 specialist suppliers, you can be rapidly connected to trusted education providers who understand the sector and can deliver high-quality solutions at pace.

Resource Capability

Bloom acts as an extension of your team, providing the procurement resource and expertise during periods of intense pressure. With limited time and capacity to run full tender processes, many organisations face the risk of delays and reactive decision-making. We remove that burden by managing the procurement process on your behalf, reducing administration, mitigating risk, and ensuring every stage is fully compliant and audit-ready. Our specialists do the heavy lifting allowing education teams to stay focused on delivering for students while we deliver procurement at pace.

Compliance

Through NEPRO Three, education providers can access specialist suppliers, while ensuring every step remains fully compliant, transparent, and audit ready. All 583 education projects have been delivered fully inline with public sector regulations and governance requirements.